THE LENS OF SUTTON COLLECTION

CALEDONIAN RAILWAY STATIONS

With a network of about 1,200 miles, the Caledonian Railway was Scotland's second largest railway company. The CR viewed itself as truly national undertaking, its passenger locomotives being painted in the national colours of red, white and blue, while its crest was based upon the royal arms of Scotland. The following list contains details of Caledonian station views in the Lens of Sutton Collection. Many of the photographs are historic postcard views of circa 1912, while most of the others were taken during the LMS era. For completeness, the list includes stations on the Dumbarton & Balloch (D&B), Dundee & Arbroath (D&A) and Kilsyth & Bonnybridge (K&B) joint lines. Glasgow, Barrhead & Kilmarnock stations are listed with G&SWR locations on List VIII.

Note that negatives pre-fixed 'JNF' are from the John Faulkner collection, 'RKK' from the Robert Kirkland collection, and 'WJP' from the WJ Probert collection.
